

Test Requisition #

Physician :

MOSAIC
DIAGNOSTICS
Formerly Great Plains Laboratory

CLIENT#:
LAB #: PATIENT:
ID:
SEX:

AGE:

Helicobacter Pylori Stool Antigen

H. pylori	Normal 	Abnormal 	Reference Neg	The HpSA enzyme immunoassay (EIA) is an in vitro qualitative procedure for the detection of H. Pylori antigens in the stool. Test results are intended to aid the diagnosis of H. Pylori infection, and to monitor response during and post therapy.
-----------	---	---	-----------------------------	---

Date Collected:	Comments:
Date Received:
Date Completed:

Lab number:
Patient:

H. Pylori Ant. Stool

Page: 1
Client:

INTRODUCTION

This analysis of the stool specimen provides fundamental information about the overall gastrointestinal health of the patient. When abnormal microflora or significant aberrations in intestinal health markers are detected, specific interpretive paragraphs are presented. If no significant abnormalities are found, interpretive paragraphs are not presented.